REPORT ON WORLD BOOK AND COPYRIGHT DAY 2022

In 1995, UNESCO decided to celebrate World Book and Copyright Day on April 23. As this date coincided with the deaths of William Shakespeare and Inca Garcilaso de la Vega, as well as the birth or death of a number of other notable authors. "World Book and Copyright Day" is observed to promote reading, publishing and to raise awareness of and protect copyright. It is also called International Day of the Book or World Book Days.

The events are held all over the world to commemorate the importance of books as a link between the past and the future, as well as a bridge across generations and cultures. Books have long symbolised humanity's ability to conjure up worlds, both real and imagined, and to give voice to the diversity of human experience. They provide far-reaching kinds of conversation between individuals beyond distance and time by allowing us to share ideas, receive information, and inspire admiration for diverse cultures

There are innumerable laws available like stars scattered in the sky that play an important role in our galaxy. There are many subjects of unique importance in legal education. The library is a treasure trove of books. On this day, all the books on the Constitution, as well as all the IPR and copyright books and many new reference books were displayed in the library. The main purpose behind organizing this event is to spread awareness and information about books and authors.
